

The Art Department

On march 20th I went to the Art event on Eindhoven. I have never been to this kind of event. So I didn't really know what to expect. What I did know was that there were going to be professional people from the art industry.

They had different artwork of people and schools shown at the event. They also had a market where young people could sell their own designs they made, for example stickers, cushions and keyrings.

And the biggest part of the event were pitches that were given by professionals. For example, I went to pitch of the artist Feefal, where she talked about how she start drawing and gave advice for inspirations, what to do against artist block.

I also went to the Playgrounds International Film Festival where 5 girls gave pitches about short movies they are making. The best pitch won €2500.

I think it is inspiring to see their work from close and hear them talk about their journey and work. And for people that want to become an artist it will help them make connections.
